

Jun,

Updates on the e-mail trail below...We'll schedule a first hand look with WWWE vehicles maybe next week. Let you know when we will need a test unit for Express.

Bryan,

Yes TESO was installed in all our Isuzu NKR(30 units) and NQR (5 units) Trucks and in our REMAN NISSAN URVAN (19 units) and soon all URVAN. You can visit us here in Pascor anytime and if I'm not around you can look for Vans

Pingal (Garage Supervisor) or Jhun Suratos ( Shop Supervisor)

Dear Zenon,

Thanks for the first hand feedback! Have you installed for all of your vehicles? May we take a look at one vehicle at your convenient time to see how it works and if it could also be of use to us?

Best Regards,

bry

Subject: RE: TESO - Timed Engine Shut Off

Hi Bryan,

TESO unit is indeed very useful in terms of engine overheating monitoring plus its other features like engine runtime and engine cool down. We had been using this product for almost 2 years and yes we do not experience any problem in overheating or low oil pressure but of course daily procedure of 360 degrees check is still maintained.

During the first month of installation we experience problem in the installation, and we got several TESO units that were returned to their office in Cebu for Repair. Just a precaution in the installation of the units, it must be installed according to their diagram and under their supervision.

Overall the product is very useful in preventing engine damage and prolonging engine life.

Regards,

Zenon

Subject: TESO - Timed Engine Shut Off

Hi Zenon / Elvie / Vans,

Just had a discussion with Shell Shannon with regard to this product he is offering. How is it working for WWWE vehicles? Can the product be useful to prevent overheating and engine damage? Is it worth trying out?

Or is it still best to rely on the temperature gauge. We would appreciate your comments on this product. Thanks!

Best Regards,

Bryan
